Existing contracts

To find out when a contract is due for renewal or will expire, view the contracts register.

Contract data is subject to change and we will update it.

Future contracts

As part of our transparency and open data standards we publish a procurement pipeline to assist suppliers in planning and preparing for forthcoming procurements.

The pipeline contains details of contracts expected to be re-procured and new procurement projects that are anticipated to be undertaken within the next 18+ months. The information on the pipeline may be subject to change and as such we cannot guarantee that all the planned procurements will proceed on the basis stated.

The pipeline is reviewed and updated every six months.
